The Ray Bell Scholarship

Ray Howard Bell was a native of Titus County, Texas. Ray Bell moved to Fort Worth after serving in the Navy in World War II. Mr. Bell's working career was spent in the Insurance Business first with Excelisor and later with Universal Life Insurance Company. Mr. Bell served the Fort Worth Tarrant County Branch of the NAACP for over 40 years first as membership chair and later serving as First-Vice President under Dr. George D. Flemmings. Mr. Bell was elevated to President on the untimely death of Dr. Flemmings in 1975. Bell served the Branch with distinction and dedication especially during the turbulent times of integrating the Fort Worth Independent School System. Mr. Bell was a great believer in Education until his untimely death in 1997.

The Willie Mae Dotson Scholarship

Willie Mae Dotson was a native of Beaumont in Southeast Texas. Mrs. Dotson was a Life member of the Fort Worth Tarrant County NAACP. Mrs. Dotson lived in Southeast Fort Worth for many years before her death. Mrs. Dotson worked for Cedar Hill Memorial Park selling cemetery plots. Mrs. Dotson was a highly respected community leader. Mrs. Dotson believed in Education and left as part of this legacy funding for Education Scholarships to current graduating seniors.

The Judge L. Clifford Davis Scholarship

Judge L. Clifford Davis is a native of Arkansas. Judge Davis moved to Fort Worth in the early 1950's when he established a private law practice in Fort Worth. Judge Davis was one of the first African-American Lawyers in Fort Worth. Judge Davis filed the first law suit against the Mansfield, Texas school district advocating for the admission of African-American students in the Mansfield School district rather than them having to commute to Fort Worth to attend High School at I. M. Terrell a legendary African-American School at the time. Judge Davis represented the Fort Worth Tarrant County Branch of the NAACP in its quest to integrate the Fort Worth Public School System.
